

ARIZONA

Don Herrington

Interim Director

Arizona Department of Health Services

Don Herrington, Interim Director, has been with ADHS since 2000. During this time he has served as the State's Food Safety Manager, the Office Chief of Environmental Health, Bureau Chief of Epidemiology and Disease Control Services, Acting Assistant Director for Public Health Preparedness, Assistant Director for Public Health Preparedness. Herrington is currently the department's Deputy Director for Planning and Operations. In this role he oversees policy development, hiring professional and support staff and the department's budget.

During his time in public health, Herrington has served on numerous councils, commissions and committees on behalf of the Director of ADHS, including Chair of the Arizona Sanitarians' Council, Chair of the Arizona Infection Prevention and Control Advisory Committee, and as one of five voting members of the Arizona Emergency Response Commission.